JACK'S SWEET TOOTH. Candy in greater or less quantities is kept on war vessels for sale to the enlisted men if they choose to buy the particular kind on hand, but as the purchase is entirely optional with Jack the Navy Department does not enter into contract for any stated amount beyond actual needs.

The item of thirty tons of candy and 80,000 packages of salted peanuts, mentioned in a news item is an estimated and is so stated in the Government specifications. The kind thus tentatively purchased is of assorted chocolates, cheap grade, 13 1/2 cents a half pound box, which price includes packing, strapping and freight charges to six different naval stations, at various times, where the quality may or may not suit the individual taste of the bluejacket, who, as he pays for it, should be of course permitted to have his own choice.

The firm or broker agreeing to furnish this article to the ships may or may not sell thirty tons in the course of the next fiscal year, the Government making no agreement to purchase even a single pound.

People in the candy trade who have been bothered with these Navy specifications know this and hence this seeming purchase is not so alluring a business proposition as an outsider would be led to believe.—John F. Hayes in New York Sun.

THE WORLD'S BANKING BUSINESS. A striking presentation of the growth of the world's banking business and of the increased power of the large institutions is afforded by a recent examination of the subject in the London Statist. That journal points out that a generation ago the banks, including the governmental institutions, of the leading countries which possessed deposits of 20,000,000 pounds, or $100,000,000, were few in number. The list which it prints in the article includes no less than sixty-one different banks answering the above condition as to their deposits at the end of 1913. Of this number no less than eleven are American banks and trust companies, whereas in 1890, the year with which comparison is made, the United States possessed no institution of such importance. In commenting upon the subject the Statist points out that the growth in the deposits of individual banks reflects the tendency of the times, which involves a desire to act in co-operation and combination with others. It furthermore points out that—in Europe and money formerly favored the private banker, who in these days has almost ceased to exist, the great banks offering much better facilities at little or no cost, combined with much greater assurance of safety to the depositor.—Bradstreet's.

FINANCING THE NATION'S WARS. To finance our war with Spain the Government borrowed $200,000,000. Increased the taxes on spirits, beer and tobacco and levied stamp taxes. Revenue from spirits rose from $92,000,000 in 1898 to $99,000,000 in 1899 and $116,000,000 in 1901. Revenue from beer rose from $39,000,000 in 1898 to $59,000,000 in 1899 and $75,000,000 in 1901. Revenue from tobacco rose from $36,000,000 in 1898 to $52,000,000 in 1899 and $62,000,000 in 1901. Stamp taxes produced $40,000,000 a year. Since 1898, however, consumption of spirits has increased from 1,000,000 gallons to 140,000,000, and of beer from 1,100,000,000 gallons to 2,000,000,000. War taxes on those articles would be correspondingly more productive.

Judging from the experience of France, where tobacco is a state monopoly, that commodity alone could be made to yield a revenue of $150,000,000 a year in this country.—Saturday Evening Post.
